

GOVERNOR GOES TO WASHINGTON

Will Spend Week Participating in Conference Called by President.

IRVINE TALKS ON PRIMARY

Southwest Democrat Says His Section Is Against It. Capital Notes.

Governor Swanson spent an exceptionally busy day in his office cleaning up official matters on his desk, with a view to spending the remainder of the week in Washington, where he will go this morning to participate in the Conference of State Executives called by the President with reference to the preservation of the material resources of the United States. He will dine at the White House this evening, and will remain throughout the conference which will begin at the new Willard tomorrow morning, and last until Friday.

The Governor expects to return to Richmond on Saturday. He received a large number of distinguished callers yesterday, among them being former Governor J. Hoge Tyler, of Radford, former Senator R. P. Bruce, of Wise, and Hon. R. Tate Irvine, of Wise. Major Tyler came to the city to attend the funeral of Mrs. H. M. Tyler on Saturday, and Mr. Bruce was on his way to Newport News to look after some business matters.

Mr. Irvine is here to take Mrs. Irvine home. She has been in the city for some days with her mother. When asked about the political situation in his end of the State, Mr. Irvine said that his people are nearly all against the present primary system, and that he expected the matter to provoke a sharp fight in the Roanoke convention. In speaking of the election of Delegates at large to the Denver Convention, Mr. Irvine said that, of course, he would appreciate the honor of being one of the big four, but under no circumstances would he oppose the aspirations of his good friend, Governor Tyler.

Frankie for the Governor. Governor Swanson has received the following resolution passed at the closing session of the National Conference of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul:

Resolved, by the National Conference of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul, assembled in the city of Richmond, Va.: That we tender to Hon. Claude A. Swanson, Governor of Virginia, our most heartfelt thanks for his warm Southern welcome, and to the people of Virginia our congratulations that they have in their Governor a worthy successor to the long line of his illustrious predecessors in that honorable office.

His speech of welcome made it clear to all that he combines, in a remarkable degree, the best characteristics of the Christian gentleman, the patriot, the statesman, the scholar and the orator.

Be it further resolved, That the secretary communicate with His Excellency the Governor, sending him a copy of this resolution.

Brief Capital Notes. Members of the Corporation Commission held an informal conference with officials of the Southern Atlantic Coast Line and Seaboard Air Line Railroads yesterday, with reference to connections with the Virginia Railway Company.

They will confer to-day with officials of the express companies doing business in Virginia, with reference to the division of certain rates.

Senate Clerk M. B. Booker, of Halifax, is in the city on official business, and was at his office in the Capitol yesterday.

Governor Swanson yesterday honored a requisition from the Governor of North Carolina for George McCormick and C. A. Beasley, who are now in jail at Lynchburg, and who are wanted in North Carolina on the charge of being fugitives from justice.

The Governor pardoned William Thompson, of Wise county, who was convicted of malicious cutting and sentenced to one year in jail.

Charles H. Consolvo, of Norfolk, has been commissioned captain and quartermaster of the Seventy-first Infantry.

The Secretary of the Commonwealth is issuing automobile licenses, and so far 1,527 have been applied for.

Labor Commissioner James B. Doherty was able to be at his desk yesterday, having been confined to his home by sickness for several days.

Mr. Lawrence Berry, of Page, the new clerk in the Department of Agriculture, has reported for duty.

MONUMENT AT WELDON. Corner-Stone of the Memorial Laid With Impassioned Ceremonies.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] WELDON, N. C., May 11.—A perfect May day, with bright sun and delightful temperature, marked the ceremonies of the laying of the corner-stone here this afternoon of the Confederate monument to the soldiers and sailors of Halifax and Northampton counties. The parade was moving, magnificent with the band of the 2nd North Carolina, headed by Major R. T. Daniel, chief marshal. Then followed carriages in which were prominent citizens and these were followed by Confederate veteran organizations, Com-

SACRAMENTO REPORTS A FINE CASE.

A fine example of a recovery in a case of kidney disease that was supposed to be incurable is reported from Sacramento, Mr. L. T. Gibson, of 521 Ninth Street, Sacramento, was in October last in a local hospital in that city, swollen with the dropsy that often attends the serious and supposed incurable forms. As is usual in these cases, the hospital treatment got no results. When he was advised to try Fultons' Renal Compound by a friend (Charles Newkys) who the world is rated as incurable the world over.

In a letter he has just written he states: "I believe it has saved my life. It is the greatest remedy for kidney disease on earth."

No matter whether called "kidney trouble," "nephritis" or "Bright's disease," the real difficulty is INFLAMMATION OF THE KIDNEYS. FULTON'S RENAL COMPOUND is the first emollient for inflamed kidneys that the world has ever seen. Send for literature.

pany K. Weldon Light Infantry, graded school children and others at large.

Hon. Thomas W. Mason, of Northampton county, delivered the oration, a superb address, in which he told of the bravery of the Southern soldiers and the sacrifices and devotion of the womanhood of the Southland.

This building, the monument was a labor of love undertaken by the Junius Daniel Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, of which Mrs. W. H. S. Burgwyn is president. In the first carriage to-day rode Mrs. Junius Daniel, widow of the brave and gallant General Junius Daniel, who fell at Spotsylvania Courthouse in 1863, and in whose honor the Weldon chapter of the Daughters is named.

A beautiful feature of the occasion was the patriotic songs by the children of the public schools.

WOMAN AGAINST TEMPERANCE. Crowd Gathered to Hear Her Leaves in Disgrace and Eggs Are Thrown.

[SALISBURY, N. C., May 11.—The first antiprohibition speech of the campaign in North Carolina was made on the streets in Salisbury yesterday by Mrs. Isobell Rice, of New York. She spoke against prohibition, declaring it to be a failure in other States.

Many who heard her went away in disgust. A climax was reached when unknown persons peppered the crowd with eggs.

LIP TORN NEARLY OFF. William Hill, of One Car and Is Knocked Insensible by Another.

While attempting to cross the track at Monroe and Clay Streets yesterday evening William Hill, of No. 608 West Baker Street, was struck by a car going in the direction opposite to that of the car from which he had just alighted, and was knocked insensible. He was attended by Dr. Woodson, of the city ambulance, who found that his lip had been nearly torn off. The wound was sewed up, and Hill was taken home in the ambulance.

CONTAINED MONEY. Both letters found on Hanson's person contained money. One was addressed to Mrs. Junius Little, Bethel,

N. C., and had in it a $5 bill, the other was going to a lady in Louisiana county. In the latter were found three $1 silver certificates.

For several weeks letters have been missing from the post-office from time to time, and the inspectors finally decided that the trouble was in the mailing division. Accordingly they decided to watch that department on Sunday.

Hanson was popular with his associates and with the officials, and Postmaster Cabell was deeply touched when developments led to his arrest upon a serious charge. Up to last night Hanson had not employed counsel, but he will, of course, do so before the date of his trial in court.

Not Decey Letters. The inspectors had no trouble whatever in fixing the robbery on Hanson, and they did not even find it necessary to use decoy letters. Those taken were passing through in the regular course of the mail, and came into the local post-office on a Northern train, to be transferred and sent on to their destination.

The arrest caused a profound sensation around the Federal building, for if the young man had ever been suspected of wrongdoing it was only by the inspectors who were at work on the case.

Wise Talks by the Office Boy

When doctors disagree they usually call it heart failure. I came near having heart failure the other day when I saw Katie walking down Main Street with a guy that works in a bowling alley. I hadn't seen the kid for a week. I guess I'll have to play closer to first hereafter. Love is a strange thing, after all. I asked our head clothing man his definition of "love," and he said it was an itching around the heart, where you couldn't get it to scratch. Well, sir, everything comes to him who doesn't sit around to wait. I'm learning to wait on people in our hat department, and I notice that can't be done from a revolving chair. When some men buy a hat they don't want much attention. They simply come in, pick out their size, take a quick look in the big mirror, throw down the change and walk out. That's a result of having a good hat reputation. They don't ask you whether our spring hats are correct in style, or whether they are made of selected fur and will wear like Russia leather. Not a word. Just "Me for a new job," then try on, then 1 to 4 plunks, just as their pocketbook dictates.

STAYED AT WORK; STOLE LETTERS

If Hanson Had Gone on Vacation Would Now Be Free Man.

WAS CAUGHT BY INSPECTORS

Waives Preliminary Hearing, and Is Bailed for Appearance in Court.

Charged with taking letters containing money from the United States mail, David C. Hanson, a clerk in the Richmond Post-Office, was arrested by Inspectors Barclay and Robertson shortly after 4 o'clock on Sunday afternoon, and was bailed yesterday in the sum of $1,000 for his appearance before the Federal grand jury at the June term of the District Court.

Hanson, who is a married man with two little children, resides in Fairmount, and is about twenty-seven years of age. He is well connected, and has been in the mail service for about seven years, having been transferred from the Fredericksburg office under the administration of former Postmaster Wray T. Knight. He married Miss Rowe, of Fredericksburg, and shortly thereafter removed to this city and took a position in the mailing department of the local office.

The young man, who seemed absolutely crushed, waived examination before Commissioner Brady, who sent him on to the grand jury.

Pathetic Case. The circumstances of the arrest have a number of pathetic features, one being that Hanson is in extremely delicate health, another, that but for the fact that he was on duty when it was not his day to work, the temptation would not have fallen in his way, and he would now be a free man. He had been granted his vacation by the postmaster, beginning Saturday night, and was preparing to rest for a week or ten days.

But as the clerical force in his department was short, he was asked to work on Sunday and let his vacation begin yesterday.

He complied with the request of Superintendent Fitzgerald, and in the course of his work was seen by the inspectors who were on the watch to remove two special delivery letters from a pouch that had just arrived in the office.

When he finished his work and was about to leave for his home, Hanson was arrested on the front steps of the Federal building, while hundreds of people were present calling for their Sunday mail. He was at once turned over to Deputy Marshal John Murphy upon a warrant sworn out by the inspectors, and was detained in Mr. Murphy's custody until yesterday, when he was released on bail by the commissioner.

Contained Money. Both letters found on Hanson's person contained money. One was addressed to Mrs. Junius Little, Bethel,

N. C., and had in it a $5 bill, the other was going to a lady in Louisiana county. In the latter were found three $1 silver certificates.

DISTILLERY IS CAPTURED. Capture Made in Wilkes County and Owners Arrested.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., May 11.—Revenue officers to-day captured a 15-gallon copper illicit distillery in Wilkes county and arrested Charles and Richard Speaks, father and son, supposed owners of the plant. The father is alleged to be an old "moonshiner." Speaks and his son are in jail in default of bail.

Officers say very little blockading is going on now in the mountain counties, but that mountaineers are planning to make vast quantities of apple and peach brandy, in view of the general belief that prohibition will carry May 26th.

COMMERCIAL TRAVELERS. Grand Council of the Carolinas to Meet in Asheville Friday.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] ASHEVILLE, N. C., May 11.—Much interest attaches to the annual convention of the Grand Council of the Carolinas, United Commercial Travelers, which will be held in this city Friday and Saturday next, May 15th and 16th, at which a large number of delegates are expected to be present from both North and South Carolina. A large number of ladies, wives and relatives of the delegates, will also be present and participate in the social functions, which will be a feature of the meeting. The local committee have com-

The Day Looks Different After a Cascaret

No need of those days when you are not at your best. Headache and dullness are generally due to the bowels.

You know that, but you put off the treatment till night. That is wrong, for it means the waste of a day.

A single Cascaret, taken the moment you need it, makes everything right very soon.

You will feel in an hour as you hope to feel the next morning.

You can't use harsh cathartics and pills in that way. They irritate the bowels and cause griping. The pain is worse than the headache. But Cascarets never gripe.

Tens of thousands of people carry our vest-pocket box. They take a Cascaret whenever the skies look gray. One ten-cent box saves, in this way, six unpleasant days. You will do likewise when you try the plan once. And you'll be glad that we told you about it. Please begin today.

Cascarets are candy tablets. They are sold by all druggists, but never in bulk. Be sure to get the genuine, with C.C.C. on every tablet. The box is marked like this:
